Websites

- www.arochoa.org.uk/livinglightly - A Rocha UK's sustainable living programme, with lots of ideas and advice on food.
- www.growzones.com – teams of local people helping in each other's gardens to begin growing fruit & vegetables – with a grow zones kit available via the website. This scheme is the brain-child of Rev. Chris Sunderland from Bristol.
- www.agriculturalchristianfellowship.org.uk – is open to all Christians interested in farming, horticulture and food-growing. ACF is involved in giving a biblical understanding, providing fellowship and support to farmers, and in evangelism in the farming community.
- www.arthurrankcentre.co.uk is a focus and resource for Christian churches in rural areas through sharing good practice, providing training, and chaplaincy to the Royal Agricultural Society of England.
- www.farmstay.co.uk is the place to look if you're interested in staying on a farm.
- www.greenchoices.org – web portal with links to dozens of useful websites
- www.makinglocalfoodwork.co.uk - seeks to support community food growing initiatives by providing advice and support
- www.organicgardening.org.uk – the national charity for organic growing
- www.farmersmarkets.net – find your nearest farmers market
- <http://conspiracyoffreedom.org> – Four short videos & other resources from the excellent 'Breathe' network including one on 'Enough'
- www.archbishopofcanterbury.org/1374 - Archbishop Rowan Williams on 'God Doesn't do Waste'
- www.srfood.org – UN Report on Agro-ecology and the Right to Food (arguing strongly that a more eco-friendly approach to farming could double food production in 10 years in many poorer countries, as well as tackling climate change and biodiversity loss.
- www.bis.gov.uk/foresight/our-work/projects/current-projects/global-food-and-farming-futures/reports-and-publications - UK Government-sponsored report on food & farming with an authoritative summary of the global issues. The report argues for actions including changing consumption patterns, reducing waste and a 'sustainable intensification' of agriculture in Africa to tackle the population and food crises. A summary is in this pack.
- www.flourishonline.org - American Christian-based creation care website
- www.viacampesina.org – La Via Campesina is an international movement in 70+ countries, bringing together 200+ million peasants, small farmers, landless people and agricultural workers. It defends small-scale sustainable agriculture and strongly opposes corporate driven agriculture and transnational companies that are destroying people and nature.
